

1 credit,
pass/fail class

GBL 1101

Developing Intercultural Competence

A pre-departure course to prepare students for study abroad

This course is designed to help prepare students for study abroad or international mission trips by developing knowledge of the destination to be visited along with cultural skills, attitudes and behaviors that will allow for more meaningful engagement while abroad.

Why take this class?

- Merge travel with your personal and academic interests.
- Learn about the country you will visit and what to expect.
- Engage in discussions about current events and the world.

Dates:
Oct 17 - Dec 5

Instructor:
Robert Leis

Want to enroll?
Sign up on Bearweb
course registration

Questions? Email
Holly_Joyner@baylor.edu

www.baylor.edu/globalengagement

1 credit,
pass/fail class

GBL 1102

Developing Intercultural Competence

A required course for students studying abroad

This course is required for all Baylor students studying abroad. It is designed to help you engage with your host culture while abroad, and at the same time learn more about yourself and your own cultural values. Your study abroad advisor will register you for this class. This class is entirely online.

Why take this class?

- Engage with your host culture while abroad, and learn more about yourself and your own cultural values.
- Students engaged in the Certificate in Global Engagement: Completion of GBL 1101, 1102, & 1103 will satisfy a GE Course Requirement

Dates:
Aug 22 - Dec 14

Instructor:
Jeffrey Hamilton

You will be enrolled automatically before your departure

Questions? Email
Holly_Joyner@baylor.edu

www.baylor.edu/globalengagement

1 credit,
pass/fail class

GBL 1103

Re-Entry from Study Abroad

A course for students after returning from studying abroad

Students will unpack and learn from their experience abroad by examining the current literature on models of culture, studying intercultural development, and learning how to use their knowledge coming forward.

Why take this class?

- Students will learn how to articulate and market their abroad experiences to further their personal, academic, and career goals.
- Students engaged in the Certificate in Global Engagement: Completion of GBL 1101, 1102, & 1103 will satisfy a GE Course Requirement

Dates:
Aug 22 - Oct 10

Instructor:
Holly Joyner

Want to enroll?
Sign up on Bearweb
course registration

Questions? Email
Holly_Joyner@baylor.edu

www.baylor.edu/globalengagement

1 credit,
pass/fail classes

GBL 1101-1103

Courses for before, during, and after study abroad

GBL 1101: A pre-departure course to prepare students for study abroad

GBL 1102: A required course for students while abroad

GBL 1103: A course for students after returning from study abroad

Why take these classes?

- Learn about the country you will visit, develop intercultural competence, and learn how to market your abroad experience
- Students engaged in the Certificate in Global Engagement: Completion of GBL 1101, 1102, & 1103 will satisfy a GE Course Requirement

Take 1101 the semester before departure, 1102 while abroad, and 1103 after returning

Want to enroll?
Sign up on Bearweb
course registration

Questions? Email
Holly_Joyner@baylor.edu

www.baylor.edu/globalengagement