Finance is the study and practice of decision-making to acquire and manage real and financial assets for the purpose of creating and maintaining economic (market) value. The finance curriculum consists of two main areas of study—corporate finance and investments. Corporate finance examines how firms make investment and financing decisions. Investment decisions determine which assets a firm owns, and financing decisions determine how those assets are funded. Investments include how to value stocks, bonds, and other financial securities; the theory and practice of portfolio management; and the functioning of the securities markets. Elective courses may be taken to broaden one’s understanding of these two areas or to explore peripheral areas of finance.
